

Edsger W. Dijkstra explains the secret of his success.

Most people think I am probably the smartest person in the world, and certainly the smartest person in the United States of America. As was to be expected, that is correct. However, I found it instructive to distinguish myself further. That is why I developed my beautiful handwriting, which gives everybody pleasure even when I do not have much to say.

Not being as smart as I am, it is very important for the reader to be able to impress his/her business associates in some other fashion. Thanks to the marvels of electricity, you can now easily acquire this beautiful handwriting, in the form of a Macintosh™ font embedding the cumulative calligraphic skills of years of training and literally hundreds of handwritten notes which made me so famous.

Having been widely tested, this font can now be used to produce your own notes, and is certified to promote you in your profession. Just look at this page! As beautiful as it looks, you might think I wrote it. Instead, it was produced by my assistants (under my supervision) while I was leisurely refreshing myself, together with my dog, at the second floor of my residence.

Do not ignore this unique opportunity. In order to receive my Dijkstra™ font, send $15.- to:
